Striving for Excellence in Resource Rich Alberta

by Tracey Campbell, Career Practitioner - Edmonton, AB

Have you ever wondered why so many Albertans continue to feel lost in our rapidly changing labour market? It may seem discouraging. The province has been a leader in the career development field for over two decades.

CDAA Chair Farewell

by Paula Wischoff Yerama

With CDAA's 16th Annual General Meeting just around the corner, the Board, and Board Committees, have been reflecting on the work that has been done over the past year to strengthen and grow the association, support the membership, and solidify CDAA as a strong and vibrant professional association for career practitioners in Alberta.

Choosing a Career Development Service Provider

by Paula Wischoff Yerama

Career Development, according to the Canadian Standards and Guidelines for Career Development Practitioners, is defined as the “lifelong process of managing learning, work, leisure, and transitions in order to move toward a personally determined and evolving preferred future”.

Profile of a Career Development Professional

Career Practitioner Profile: Tracey Campbell

My colleagues and friends often refer to me as the "Career Development Princess" - I have spent the last 15 years in the career development field because I have felt it was my calling. I was drawn to the field because of the hope that career development can bring to people.
